THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH AND THE The Episcopal Church has never done much for the spiritual welfare of the negro, but what it has done has been in a perfectly catholic, and, therefore, logical spirit. Decorous and dignified in its beautiful service, conservative in Its polity and thoroughly orthodox in its creed, it refuses to countenance a colored division of the Church. In the words of Bishop Wilmer, of Alabama, it refuses to consent to any legislation looking to dividing men in social life by lines of demarcation." If a colored man or woman becomes a member of that Church it must be on the same conditions as those offered to the white man or woman-a confession of faith "in Church in the United States reassembled the Lord Jesus Christ." This is consistent with the history of the Church of Christ.

The Church of Power the Country of Fond du Lac and the Rev. William C. The Church of Rome, the Greek Church and the Anglican Church—the three historic divisions of Christianity—have diction pronounced by the Rt. Rev. ified names not to take from a sir of a particular State, so as to avoid ex ceeding the number of appointment which that State is entitled. A remarkable instance of a government clerk who was not short at the end of every month is found in Maj. T. T. J four, and was over forty years a clerk in the Quartermaster-General'soffice. Being a frugal old bachelor, his household wants e supplied by a family in the north-t part of the city, for whom only a few ivs before his death he purchased ise, paying therefor thirty-five $10 es. Under his pillow was found $33 o00 in three per cent. government bonds, besides securities and money elsewhere. He left $200 to Patrick Wall, a messenger in the Quartermaster's office, and provided
